

Heavy Wind, Rains, Hail Cover Medina County During The Week

By Ralph Cole

Summer Recreation directors and a meeting with interested Hondo citizens Thursday night, April 25, at Lacy Elementary School. Directors say they are assured of the enthusiasm of young people of the community, who will be cared for by the program. Encouragement and advice from adults are the things the Summer Program needs.

The Hondo High School Band will present their annual Spring Concert at 8 p.m. Friday, May 3, in the high school auditorium. The program will be kept with the Band's motto, "Musical Fun for Everyone." A wide variety of music will be presented. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The first Stocker Cow Sale will be held at the Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, on May 2. This special day will be sponsored jointly by the Texas Aherford Association and the Texas Hereford Association. This is the first special day set aside for the sale of cows, cows and calves (pairs) and heifers.

Barley Howard, Devine, and Schuchart and sons, Rio Medina took wins in the Hereford Stocker Feeder Sale held at the Union Stock Yards in San Antonio last week. There were over 100 head entered. Howard placed third in Hereford Steers, pen 20 head, and second in Hereford Heifers, pen lots of 20 head. Schuchart and Sons placed fifth in Hereford Heifers, pen lots of 10 head.

Lake F. Wade, social security representative, will be in Hondo at the District Courtroom from 12 a.m. April 30.

The Pecos River Bridge will be dedicated Saturday, April 27. Highway officials will be present. C. Greer, chief engineer of the Texas Highway Department, will be there. Dedication ceremonies will open at 11:30 a.m. with a barbecue.

Mrs. Wesley Rihn, Devine, received minor burns on her face and arms when cleaning fluid in a washing machine Thursday, April 11.

Three Devine Volunteer Fire Department trucks answered the call, which was at the home of Walter Jungman, a brother of Mrs. Rihn.

Mrs. Rihn said she was washing her husband's work clothes with cleaning fluid and had placed them in the washing machine. Flames ignited from a hot water heater nearby, burning the clothes and slightly damaging the machine.

Two persons received injuries in an accident on Highway 90, west of Ave. I at Hondo last Tuesday morning at 9:10.

Injured were Charles L. Korb, 45 year old Hondo resident and driver of one of the cars, and Mrs. Nancy Gunstream, 24, passenger in the other vehicle. Neither were seriously injured.

The accident occurred as Lew Clyde Gunstream, 27, Orange, attempted a U-turn from the outside lane and drove his 1952 Pontiac into the path of Korb's approaching 1957 Chevrolet.

The Gunstream car received 400 damages and the Korb car, a State Highway Department owned vehicle, received $250 damages.

Both cars were going east on Highway 90.

Mrs. Gunstream was knocked out of the car.

Hondo Air Base Sets Armed Forces Day Open House May 18

Hondo Air Base will observe Armed Forces Day with Open House from 9-12 a.m. May 18. Many interesting activities will be presented for public observation. There will be aircraft on display, flyovers, artillery equipment, vehicles, helicopters, and many other items of interest.

In conjunction with Armed Forces Day, the Air Force will celebrate its 50th anniversary. In 1907 the "aeronautical division" of the Signal Corps, U. S. Army was created. This division consisted of one officer and two enlisted men. The purpose of this division was to study the flying machine and the possibility of adapting its use to military purposes.

That was the beginning of what is now the U. S. Air Force. In 1909 the aeronautical division accepted its first airplane which passed a test of remaining aloft 1 hour and 12 minutes, completing a 10 mile cross-country and return at an average speed of slightly above 40 miles per hour. In 1910 the "Air Force" consisted of two officers, nine enlisted men and one airplane. Lt. T. E. Selfridge, the officer Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan is named after, was the first air casualty. In 1909, two military pilots completed flight training under the direction of the Wright brothers and performed successful solo flights.

From its humble beginning in 1907, the Air Force has proved its value in peace and war many times. During the last 15 years, the Air Force has approached the threshold of rocket travel and other capabilities that were beyond the minds of the most adventurous fiction writers 50 years ago.

The public is cordially invited to visit Hondo Air Base during Open House May 18, and obtain first hand information of their Power for Peace and the golden anniversary of the United States Air Force.

Burglars Enter Super Market

Burglars took an estimated $1,155 from a safe at Nester's Super Market April 21 between the hours of 1:30 and 6 a.m.

The Sheriff's Department said the intruders knocked the knob off the safe but failed to open it at the store. They then loaded it in a vehicle and carried it with them.

Entrance was gained when the person or persons forced open a rear door. Tire prints and foot prints were taken at the scene.

The safe was later found about four miles north of D'Hanis in some brush. The door had been blown open with a fuse and cap, the same type used in oil field work.

Walter Burrell, D'Hanis, reported the location of the safe to the Sheriff's Department at Hondo. It was found by a rabbit hunter.

All papers were found unharmed and the burglars left about $300 in small change. The other currency was in ones, fives and tens.

Hondo VFD Needs Help From Locals

For the first time in three years, the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department needs donations from private citizens.

More equipment and maintenance of equipment is needed in order to give better fire protection to the people of Hondo.

In the past, the citizens of Hondo have been most generous, and the Fire Department is relying on each person's support.

If you want to make a donation, either mail it to or give it in person to John Henry Muennink, Hondo, or Henry M. Finger at the Hondo National Bank Building.

Hondoans Invited To Carrizo Meet

Dimmit County Judge Jay S. Myers of Carrizo Springs has issued an invitation to business people of Medina county to attend a meeting in Carrizo Springs at the courthouse next Tuesday, April 30, at 2 p.m.

The regional director of the Small Business Administration will be present to answer questions. He is C. W. Ferguson, and his headquarters are in Dallas.

Also present will be J. R. Lyons and Robert Woodall of San Antonio.

Object of the meeting, according to Judge Myers, is to clear up the methods of obtaining Small Business Administration loans. Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting, which will probably last until about 5 p.m.

HIGH WINDS — High winds took the tops from trees and here, trees are shown where they were torn from their trunks.

Now Is The Time For Perennial Grasses

Now is the time for perennial grasses to be planted in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District. Some good grasses are blue panic, buffel, sideoats grama, K R bluestem and slender grama.

In planting any of these grasses on old cropland, one should first have a firm seed bed, and fairly level so that the seed can be planted evenly and to a very shallow depth. Grass seed should never be planted over one-half inch deep in the soil. Planting any deeper may result in the seed being covered too deep by any heavy rain or by sand storms in lighter soils.

One of the best ways to plant grass is to lay the row open with a sweep or small buster set flat. This will clear the path of small field grasses and weeds and at the same time make a good seedbed for the seed. Have a packer wheel running behind the seed before the packer wheel rolls it in. In this manner some seed will be covered a quarter of an inch and some will be left on top, in the same manner as Mother Nature reseeds our grasses.

Grasses will not come up from moisture that you now have. The seed will lay dormant until the next rain. Four to seven days after the rain some of the seed will germinate and come up. Do not become discouraged if you do not get a perfect stand the first time you receive moisture on your grass planting. Many of the seed will lay for two or three rains before germinating.

Several cooperators of the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District that have already planted grass this year are Ervin and L. J. Leinweber and Herman Poerner all of Hondo, Mrs. Mary Gruenwald, Mrs. Mary Watson and George Wilson of Yancey.

Albert and Ralph Beck have recently completed a farm pond on each of their ranches in Rio Medina. The farm pond locations were selected by the ranchers and a technician of the Soil Conservation Service. In selecting a farm pond site there are several things to take into consideration. One of the first is to find a soil that will hold water and give a permanent water source that will last through the dry months of the year. Another important factor to consider is if the location of the pond is where it will give the best possible distribution of grazing land. As we all realize the expense of constructing farm ponds, it is well to be careful in their location.

Cancer Funds Short

Medina County's annual cancer drive netted $1,307.19, according to Mrs. W. T. Hardy, secretary of the Medina County Cancer Society.

Quota for the county was $1,700. Breakdown of donations showed $211.98 from Castroville, $39.00 from Devine and $16.50 from Dunlay.

The drive, which was held April 17, was planned by representatives from Medina County who met in Hondo before the drive with Mrs. Frank Vance, county chairman and Mrs. Jake Schuehle, crusade chairman.

District leaders and representatives of churches and organizations who were active in the crusade included Mesdames Charles Korb, Paul Pope, Riggs Shepperd, George Reinburg, Louis Oefinger, Evert Garlow, Fred Parker, Joe Briscoe, Walter Gunstream, Charles "Dondre" and W. T. Hardy. O. J. Bomba is county treasurer for the drive.

Officers of the Medina County Cancer Society for 1957 are Mrs. Vance, county chairman; Mrs. Briscoe, vice-chairman; Mrs. Schuehle, crusade chairman; Mrs. Hardy, secretary; and Bomba, treasurer. Mrs. Reinburg is military committee chairman, and Mrs. Gunstream was in charge of collections at Texas Aviation Industries.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service recently completed conservation plans on the farms and ranches of the following cooperators of the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District:

John Fasel and Olen Brieden, Yancey; Clem A. Howard, Carlton Adams, W. L. Moses Jr. and Gilbert Falbo, Devine; Ben and Maurice Koch, D'Hanis; Marshall Persyn, Castroville; Clarence Haby, Rio Medina; and Ben DeJoorno, Dunlay.

Under this designation, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through April 29, 1957 to provide feed grain for basic livestock herds through May 15, 1957.

Tornado Strikes Near Biry Area Thursday

Wind, hail and rain struck Medina County during the past week, as more than nine inches of rain was dumped on parts of the county and a small tornado lashed an area bound by Dunlay and Biry.

A small twister Thursday night or early Friday morning did some damage to homes, businesses and woodland near Biry as 4.60 inches of rain fell on the Biry community.

Many Biry residents working in Hondo were stranded at their homes and could not get to work.

Rains Cause Rampage

Flash rains in Medina City and an area south of Kerrville caused floods in this portion of the state with most roads leading north from Hondo closed to through traffic early Wednesday morning.

A six inch rain and as much as nine inches lashed the area south of Kerrville early Wednesday, bringing the Hondo Creek down on an 18 foot rise. The Sheriff's Department received word that State Highway 16, Farm Roads 480, 470, 1335, and 462 were closed to through traffic. Another road, the Vandenburg Road, was closed about 11 a.m. Wednesday as the Hondo passed. Farm Road 462 is the Tarpley Road from Hondo. It was reopened Wednesday afternoon.

Medina River was reported on a 16-foot rise and still rising about 9:30 Wednesday morning. Other readings showed the Guadalupe up 15 feet, and the Sabinal up 10 feet.

Flash floods washed parts of highways out near Bandera and closed all traffic off for several hours.

Meantime, rains in Medina County slowed down after a weekend of turbulent weather, probably the worst in the past decade.

County Given Drouth Aid Until May

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, today advised Morris E. Albers, County Supervisor of the redesignation of Bexar, Medina, LaSalle and Frio Counties for assistance under the Emergency Feed Grain Program.

Under this designation, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through April 29, 1957 to provide feed grain for basic livestock herds through May 15, 1957.

Friday as creeks went on a rampage, taking debris with them.

High winds picked up the roof of the Marvin Haass store on Highway 173, the Hondo-Devine road, and blew out a large plate glass window. The roof was lowered in its place again and supports in the middle of the business house were moved over about two inches.

Yancey reported as much as nine and one-half inches of rain during the weekend. LaCoste had four inches of rain Friday morning, including an electrical storm and some hail. Creeks and streets were full of water. Biry reported 6.40 inches for the weekend, while Hondo had 4.05 for the week. Devine received five inches, Rio Medina, 5.21 inches, and the Settlement 4.50 inches. Two and one-half inches of rain fell in Hondo Friday with about one inch landing Sunday, bringing the total rainfall for Hondo for 1957 to 9.03 inches.

Strong winds Sunday night also demolished a goat shed belonging to Eugene Saathoff, who lives in the East Verde area. In the same general area, the front porch of the Joe Short home was torn off. Trees along the Hondo Creek near Biry, were torn from their trunks and thrown across fences and Highway 173 Thursday night.

The tornado dipped down near Dunlay and then followed the Hondo Creek before cutting across a field and hitting other areas near Biry.

Mrs. Ralph Bilhartz, who lives near Biry, reported that the roof was taken off the Frank Rihn business. At Bilhartz's residence, a plum tree was torn from the ground and slammed against the bedroom wall. The top of a ground cistern was taken off and part of the roof of a chicken house. It also demolished a barn.

The twister then jumped to Hondo Creek and to the William Morris place at the bridge on the Devine-Hondo Road, where it took the tops out of trees. Fences, electric wires and telephone wires were all down around Biry. Streets in the Biry community turned to small rivers Friday morning after the near five inches of rain. Medina County erosion losses may run into the thousands of dollars after the heavy rains. Heaviest loss is around Biry, where many fields washed. Yancey also reported some erosion loss.

Mrs. C. H. Soape of Hondo, said she looked out the window of her home at 806 29 1/2 St. about 2 a.m. Sunday, to "see if Hondo was still there."

"I heard an explosion and saw many charges of lightning together. It was a terrifying sound and I was scared half to death," she said. There was only small damage reported from the Sunday night incident.

Medina Lake was reported on a 25 foot rise before the big rains to the north of this area Wednesday. The lake now has about 50 feet of water in it.

Cloudy weather still caused much speculation as to what the weather would do in the next few days. More rain has been forecast for this area.

Weather pictures appear on page 6 of this issue of the Herald.

SOIL LOSS — Soil washed Biry during last week's six inch rise to the thousands of dollars across pavement just east of rain storm. Erosion losses may due to the heavy rain storms.

Statistical Breakdown

Seven Die Each Day

The annual statistical breakdown of Texas motor vehicle traffic accidents for 1956 was released in booklet form today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The report, entitled "7 A DAY," got its name from the fact that an average of 7.13 persons per day were killed during the year 1956. In regard to this, Col. Garrison took stock of the fact that the statistical picture probably will look no better during the current year.

"Today seven persons were killed; tomorrow seven more persons will die in traffic accidents and so on throughout the year until we reach the end of 1957 when our 1956 death count of 2,611 will be exceeded."

The report, compiled by Chief N. K. Woerner of the department's Statistical Division, shows that in addition to an average of seven persons being sent to their graves daily in Texas, 305 persons suffered injuries in 625 daily accidents. And in what is termed a conservative estimate, the report states that the average dollar loss per day during 1956 was just short of two-thirds of a million dollars.

Even though 64 more persons were killed in Texas motor vehicle traffic accidents in 1956 than in 1955 the statistical information does suggest a chance for improvement in the future. There were five deathless days in 1956, as compared with three the previous year, and two of those days fell together on June 5 and 6.

In rural fatal accidents the effects of better highways are evidenced in the fact that head-on collisions were reduced from 27.8 per cent in 1950 to 20.9 per cent in 1956. Woerner said this decrease was due primarily to an increase in the number of rural miles of divided highways.

A reduction in the number of sharp curves on rural highways has helped in reducing the "run-off-roadway" accidents from 28.8 per cent in 1950 to 22.2 per cent in 1956.

Younger drivers and newer vehicles were involved in more than their share of accidents. Of all drivers involved in rural accidents, 44.8 per cent were under 30 years of age — this group represents 31.2 per cent of the licensed drivers in Texas.

One-third of the vehicles involved in rural accidents were one year old or less. This is emphasized by the fact that 60 per cent of rural fatal traffic accidents involved only one vehicle. On this point Woerner concluded that possibly drivers are placing too much confidence in their newer cars.

November 24 was the black day in Texas last year with 29 persons killed — the greatest number of any day in 1956. This number, with an additional nine killed November 25, made that weekend the deadliest on Texas Highways for the year with 38 persons killed in 24 accidents.

In reviewing the traffic accident information in "7 A DAY," the state police director said speed continues to be the leading causative factor in traffic accidents.

"In 87 per cent of the rural accidents last year, one or more traffic law violations was a causative factor. At the top of the list driving too fast for conditions resulted in more accidents than any other violation."

HOW IKE'S IDEAS HAVE CHANGED

President Eisenhower, defending his huge budget and "liberalism," imitated both the late Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman at his press conference. In defending the New and Fair Deals, Messrs. Roosevelt and Truman used to say that "we can't go back to McKinley." Mr. Eisenhower said "we can not limit ourselves to the governmental processes applicable in 1890."

In retrospect, we can now see the shift in President Eisenhower's thinking, a 3-step process:

1—Campaigning in 1952, he said "we must cut big government, we must cut taxes, we must reduce the national debt."

2—Midway through his first term, he accepted "social reforms" of the New Deal, but contended that they must not be expanded and that the Republican Party could operate them better and more cheaply than the Democrats.

3—Today his $72-billion budget not only embodies all the New Deal programs but represents an even more expensive (by $20 billion) program than Truman's extravagance.

Nobody suggests that government, 1957, should be the government of McKinley or of 1890. But the philosophy that began with Roosevelt and continues unabated ignores the following:

1—The basic laws of economics do not change. You can't stop inflation — which Mr. Eisenhower himself calls our greatest danger — by spending more and more from the Federal Treasury.

2—You can't maintain confiscatory tax rates without discouraging individual initiative which is the basis of the American system.

3—Expansion of the welfare state, which Ike's big budget calls for, is another step toward state socialism which began in 1933. Either we stop the march, which he pledged if elected, or we continue and there is no use masking it with the dignity of Modern Republicanism.

The President may be sincere in his belief that the people want bigger government. A ridiculous irony of our times is the belief that the people can get something for nothing, if Washington is the donor.

His budget represents that public belief. And the November elections convinced him that the Republican Party must out-do the New and Fair Deals if it hopes to survive as a party. Sound, fiscal thinking has gone out the window. Political thinking shapes most of our decisions.

TODAY'S CONSTANT THREAT!

THE POISED AXE

Ever-increasing wage demands upon American business, made by the unions and backed up by their monopoly power and punctuated with strikes or threats of strikes, are like an axe held over the head of our economy.

The union leaders dictate — they do not bargain, they dictate—wages, hours, and working conditions in most of our major industries. They impose their will on employers, employees, and the public alike.

If employers could grant higher wages each year, and without raising the prices of their products, that would be one thing. But how long would they be able to stay in business—and how long would their employees have jobs? There's an old fable—but a painfully modern one about the man who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs!

KILGORE'S CAPITOL COMMENT

By Joe Kilgore

WHENEVER THERE is an effort to cut any money out of any part of the President's budget, you may be sure that someone will rise and argue that this particular item must not be cut. He will say "sure, I'm for economy, but to cut this item (whatever it is) is folly". He will be sincere and can likely make a plausible argument that the money is needed. He may be able to show that no one else will do this particular job if the Federal government does not. But in this argument we have lost sight of a fundamental truth.

NINE OUT OF 10 of the taxpayers who are furnishing the money for whatever worthwhile project is under consideration also have worthwhile projects of their own they are trying to find money for. They may be trying to educate children. They may be trying to pay for medical or hospital services. They may be trying to make a business expansion or pay off a debt. They may need equipment or supplies. It can be any of a hundred things. These, too, are important. They are the cornerstones of the future personal and economic health of the people who make up this nation. When we take their money involuntarily by taxation it must be with the overwhelming conviction that the money so taken is essential to the preservation of the freedom and vitality of the Union. It is a sorry day when money is collected in taxes just on the premise that someone in the government can make better use of it than can the man or woman who earned it. That is the deep and fundamental question in this high budget — and we sometimes lose sight of it.

EACH AND EVERY item in this and all budgets should stand the test of whether the spending of the money by the Federal government is important enough to all the people that the money should be taken by taxation for that purpose. It is not always an easy test to apply. While trying to apply that test I am continuing to vote with a majority of the House of Representatives to reduce the budget. We have now reached an encouraging total of $1,141,175,749 — this figure includes the $101,850,000 cut from the President's $665,649,822 budget request for the Department of State, Department of Justice and the Judiciary — and the largest items in the budget have not yet been reached.

ALREADY ANTICIPATING a substantial surplus arising from a reduced budget and record tax collections, there is a lot of talk about tax reduction. My own thinking is that while early tax reductions are important we must not overlook the part the national debt plays in keeping the costs of government high. We are now paying about $7.3 billion in interest each year on the $275 billion debt. A large part of whatever surplus we have should be paid on the debt. In so doing we make possible larger and permanent savings in the cost of government. In that way the tax reductions are more secure.

THE CONGRESS is in the annual Easter recess. I would rather come home for a week, but I plan to use the time to get caught up in the office. It has been a busy session and my office staff has been plagued with illness.

THINKS SOME AMENDING
CAN BUT BE DONE
BY ELIMINATION

THE 16TH BEING AN EXAMPLE

From a syndicated column by George Peck, he culls the following portion and presents it herewith with his endorsement: From time to time throughout the history of this nation, amendments have been made to our Constitution. Those Founding Fathers who were wise enough to draft the greatest document of political freedom in all world history knew that with the growth of the U. S. A., and changing conditions, modifications would have to be made. Therefore, they most wisely made provision for amendments to the Constitution and prescribed the methods for enacting them.

Including the Bill of Rights (the first ten made shortly after the drafting of the Constitution) in all, twenty-two amendments have been made to the Constitution. It is a distinct compliment to the foresight of the Founding Fathers that a number of these amendments have been injurious to, rather than constituting improvements to, that historic document.

One of these — the 16th Amendment — was a grave error. First, because it granted the Federal Government the right to levy and collect taxes on incomes. Second, and this is what really has caused grievous trouble, no limitation was put as to can levy and collect.

During the debate in the Senate, on the enabling act for submission to the States for ratification, one very astute Senator suggested that a limitation of ten per cent be written into the act as to the percentage Federal Government could levy on incomes. He was almost laughed out of the Senate for deigning to suggest that any Congress of the U. S. A. would ever dare to take as high as ten per cent of a company's or an individual's income. No limitation was put into the 16th Amendment and we now witness the sad spectacle of the Federal Government not only deigning, but actually taking as high as 91 per cent of certain incomes.

Chief Justice Marshall, in concurring with Daniel Webster, said: "The power to tax is the power to destroy." The several States which ratified the 16th Amendment most certainly would not have done so had they dreamed that some day the Federal Government would presume to take as high as 91 per cent of an individual's income.

Communism's basic demand is confiscation of all wealth. It is this columnist's studied opinion that we have gotten dangerously near to confiscation and communism by permitting the Federal Government to levy such a heavy impost on incomes.

The Founding Fathers intended to leave to the individual States and to local governments within the States, a maximum of authority to conduct their own State and local affairs. At present the Federal Government under the authority vested in it by the 16th Amendment, has the power and is exercising it, to tax incomes — both large and small — to the point where there is little or no taxing power left for the States.

This increased Federal taxation with resultant loss of taxing power to the smaller units of government, has created a dangerous concentration of power at Washington. The Federal Government has usurped many of the functions that rightfully and constitutionally belong to State and local governments.

To fully protect the rights of the people, the States and the local communities, the 16th Amendment should be repealed.

What sayest you?

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. — (II Timothy 1:7.)

When we come to realize that our fears and anxieties cannot come from God but only from our lack of trust in Him and love of Him—that naught but good and power for good come from Him—then we will find His presence through Christ Jesus, and glory in new-found joy and strength.

HOW PERMANENT IS THE FARM SURPLUS?

One of the great economic miscalculations, made by some "experts," was the forecast of mass unemployment that would follow in the wake of World War II.

That error suggests another that may be in the making by those who foresee a permanent problem of farm surpluses.

The editors of the building magazine, Architectural Forum, predict that at the rate construction is now gobbling up the American countryside, population and food-producing land will come into a delicate balance in the early 1960s.

These editors contend that today's bothersome farm surpluses may have vanished by then, to be replaced by the problem of finding more farmland amid a landscape of buildings and pavement.

Each year an estimated 1,100,000 acres go out of crop use and into shrubs, industrial sites, airports, highways, and the like. The trend promises to continue. The new federal highway program alone will put concrete over 1,000,000 acres in the next decade.

A whole new direction of thinking may be dictated by the rapidly changing inventory of land use in America.

Seco Agrees Overwork Hurts

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably is misinterpreting what has been reading again, his letter this week indicates. That's his worry, not ours.

Generally speaking, if a man's specialist, nobody questions him, but last night I was reading a statement by Dr. White, a famous heart specialist, and he like to say that while I didn't qualify as an expert in anything, I sure can't follow his doctor in his latest diet.

According to him, "overwork" hurt a man, and stress and strain are necessary for the health of the world.

Now I won't go into the matter of whether the world is healthy, although with the amount of stress and strain going on it ought to be in the pink of health and the Middle East ought to be glowing, and Sec. Dulles ought to realize he's tampering with nature when he tries to do something to relieve some of the health-giving pressure over there, but about this idea that overwork won't hurt a man, I've got something to say about that.

Understand, I'm not going to argue with a heart specialist about it, but on the other hand I'm not going to set out to prove he's right.

A man in my position, which is sitting down most of the time, ought to be big about this and accept a new scientific theory without trying to prove it. For example, I believe the world is round, but I have no intention of getting up of this farm out here and going around the globe to prove it. I believe an athlete can now run a mile in less than four minutes, but the idea doesn't appeal to me personally. I'll take the sports writers' word for it. I understand airplanes can fly faster than sound, but sitting in a chair on the front porch is fun, top.

Overwork may not affect a man's heart, I wouldn't know, but I know what it does to your arms and legs and various other parts of you.

I appreciate getting this latest scientific medical advice free, but confidentially the fear that overworking might hurt me isn't what has been keeping me from overworking.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Fountain of Freedoms...a Free Press

The history of the press, since its development five centuries ago, has been a history of restraint. It is natural for men in authority to resent the sting of criticism. It is human for them to be ambitious, and to seek to entrench themselves. Hence rulers often avoid criticism and disagreement by stifling it. But the courageous men who founded this new nation sought here full freedom for each individual. When they established a constitution, aware of the human frailty even of rulers elected from among them, their First Amendment provided that "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech and of the press..." With the widespread education and enlightenment that resulted, the people here have advanced farther toward all freedoms than the people of any other nation. The beacon of this Western World, marks for all nations the start of the path to Freedoms: Freedom of Speech and of the Press.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health,
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

AUSTIN — A California poultry-dressing plant disposes of its waste products in an oxidation pond. The wastes in the water and sunlight playing on it combine to make algae grow. Then the algae is harvested and fed to the plant's new crop of young chicks. It is the only feed they get.

Oxidation ponds are among the most recent developments in the science of domestic waste disposal. Not to be confused with haphazard sewage lagoons, oxidation ponds conform to regular shapes and uniform depths. They work on this principle:

When partially treated domestic sewage is discharged into shallow ponds, algae — a type of tiny vegetable growth — will flourish in the water. In the presence of sunshine, the algae releases oxygen into the water. The oxygen acts to convert organic matter in the sewage to carbon dioxide, which in turn is used by the algae in its growth processes.

State Health Department water pollution control engineers say oxidation ponds, besides creating favorable environments for biological treatment of city wastes, are probably easier on the city's pocket book than any other method of sewage disposal. And they are at least a partial answer to Texas' perennial water shortages. Instead of risking stream pollution by discharging partially treated effluent into streams, why not capture that effluent in oxidation ponds and use it for irrigating feed crops or for cooling processes in industry?

More than 200 Texas cities are presently doing this very thing. Lubbock is irrigating 1,860 acres of grass and pastureland. Big Springs and Amarillo supply several millions of gallons of water daily to local refineries for use in cooling. Brady grazes 100 head of cattle on 35 acres irrigated with reclaimed water.

Arizona, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Missouri and other states are becoming increasingly interested in this method of sewage treatment and use, following Texas' lead.

While further research will be necessary before the use of effluent can be recommended for irrigating crops for human consumption, its value for feed crop irrigation is indisputable.

Besides their usefulness for waste disposal and irrigation, a move is afoot to see if the ponds can be used for fish culture. Since effluent can readily be made to support fish in limited numbers, State Health Department engineers and Fish and Game Commission biologists believe there may be a possibility of cultivating fish in sufficient quantities for commercial sale as dog and cat food and fertilizer. If so, the ponds could become an additionally important source of city revenue.

Home For Easter 'Twas A Wonderful Thing Once

By Don Wenzl

Home was the collegian, home for Easter vacation. Home with the folks, away from the tension of schoolwork. Just home. And it was wonderful.

I wasn't home for Easter, but was a mixture of being very happy and homesick at the same time. I know how it used to happen to me, and I know how it happened in Hondo, sharing a portion of a family Easter.

From Dallas, from Austin, or San Marcos, or Georgetown or from any other college town in Texas, Hondo mothers received phone calls from students saying they were leaving before dawn in order to get a head start and spend more time with the folks.

And Mother at home or at work, not seeing her young adult at the stated arrival time knew that he or she had overslept, and was thankful. It had rained and she wanted them to arrive safely.

It's always the same way. Mother's aglow with anticipation. And then that longed-for phone call and she sparkles with joy, and those last three minutes of waiting seem longer than all the hours that went before.

Then there's the big hug and glad talk that says I'm glad to home, so good to be with you. The old room is the same, the bed is the most comfortable you know, no chair sits as well as the easy chair at home, the radio sounds better, television views better. Everything about home is better — the complete acceptance for and pride of the student that make this time of year an island of contentment in the academic year.

There's driving Mother to the grocery store to select all the good fixings for an Easter meal. And there or in the drug store, or the cafe, or at the service station there's meeting friends

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Hondo, Texas
April 20, 1957.
Dear Mrs. Berger,
Your open letter to Mr. Eisenhower is plum good. I feel like you do about the mess the administration has gotten our country into — but that King Saud deal has got it all topped. It is a disgrace to our Christian nation, but wait and see what is coming out of the tour over Africa by V.P. Nixon — some more King Sauds if they accept our handouts.

Yours very truly,

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN — Reorganization of the Insurance Commission is a supercharged issue again.

More than a month ago the Senate passed a bill that would sweep out present commissioners and allow the governor to name a new board. But the House State Affairs Committee shunted it off to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Some thought it would die there. Then a verbal battle broke out between John Osorio chairman of the commission, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Osorio, who was appointed by Former Gov. Allan Shivers, will lose his job if Governor Daniel's reorganization plan goes through. In answer to questions from Rep. Jerry Sadler, Osorio said that Daniel had offered to help him find another job if he would support reorganization. Osorio replied that he felt such a "deal" would violate his oath of office.

Osorio also said, in answer to Sadler's questions, that the governor apparently did not oppose his confirmation by the Senate until after the Commission had closed down the ICT Insurance Co.

Governor Daniel called the charges false. He said he had expected personal attacks to result from his efforts for reform. Then he declared he would fight "even harder for cleanup and reorganization."

In reply to the governor's accusation of a "false" charge, Osorio offered to take a lie detector test, if Daniel would.

House committee members, meanwhile, took new looks at the reorganization bill, admitted to being in a tight spot. Sentiment is reportedly very evenly divided.

Annual Sessions Favored
With time running out on this session, the prospect of annual sessions in the future is gaining favor.

Senate gave preliminary approval to a measure for annual sessions for legislators. House passed a similar version with only $4,800 a year pay.

Sessions on odd-numbered years would be as now. One ven-numbered years a short budget appropriation session would be held.

Measure is a constitutional amendment which would require approval of the voters in November, 1958.

Slum Bill Moves
Texas cities would be able to get federal aid for cleaning up blighted areas under a bill given final House passage.

Senate State Affairs Committee blackballed the same bill 9 to 8. But supporters gained an unusual victory when the Senate voted 23-6 to accept the report of the committee minority.

Opponents attacked as unconstitutional the provision allowing a city to condemn property for sale to private parties. Backers said the bill had safeguards to prevent abuse of condemnation powers.

Segregation Up To Senate
Enactment of 8 bills designed to preserve school segregation is in the hands of the Senate.

Sponsors predicted an easy majority in the upper house. However, two South Texans whose constituencies are already integrated promised opposition. Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio indicated they might try to talk the bills to death in an end-of-session filibuster.

Measures already given House approval would (1) allow school boards to assign pupils to schools, (2) exempt children from compulsory attendance at integrated schools, (3) authorize state to pay tuition for pupils to segregated non-sectarian schools where no segregated public school is available, (4) authorize school boards to designate schools as "White," "Negro" or "integrated," (5) direct the attorney general to defend anti-segregation suits against the state, (6) require registration of persons paid to work for integration, (7) prohibit public employment of NAACP members and (8) ban future integration without a local school district vote.

Teacher Money Sought
Two bills aimed at gaining funds for teacher pay raises probably will be debated this week. Each has gained committee approval in both houses.

One would double tuition at state colleges for an estimated $10,000,000 more in revenue. Another would make one per cent of the permanent school fund available for current spending. It would bring in $7,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Added to a predicted $27,000, surplus in the general fund, passage of the two bills would bring to about $47,000,000 the amount available for teacher raises.

Teachers originally asked a basic $399-a-year boost, plus improvement in the schedule of in-would cost a total of $67,000,000.

Governor Daniel suggested a compromise whereby teachers get the basic raise, but not the experience increase. Teacher spokesmen have indicated probable acceptance.

Women Gain Ground
Women's clubs won a modified victory with Senate passage of a much-patched separate property bill. It would give married women authority to manage their own estates without husband's consent.

A number of restrictive amendments were put in before pastate management "to prevent a sage. One would require a woman be 21 before assuming estate management "to prevent a 14-year-old girl from getting married and throwing away her inheritance."

REA Compromise Okayed
A bill designed to smooth over the squabble between private and cooperative utilities has been voted out of committee in both houses.

Bill stems from a recent Supreme Court decision limiting activities of REA co-ops.

Proposed changes in law would allow a co-op to continue to serve old customers in an area after it is annexed by a city and add new customers where private power is not available.

Short Snorts

After two months delay the Senate okayed the House-passed Pool bill requiring a runoff in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large. Legal Security Life Insurance Company won the right to continue business after a show cause hearing before the Board of Insurance Commissioners. Board called some of the company assets overvalued, but did not find the one-third impairment of capital required by statute for dissolution. Friends of Speaker Waggoner Carr are pushing him for a second term. His only comment is that he's too busy now for politicking. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has approved continuance of emergency feed program in 119 Texas counties. The Thanksgiving snafu whereby Texas celebrates the last Thursday in November and the rest of country the fourth Thursday is apparently to be cleared up. A Bill making the Texas holiday conform passed both houses.

Have You Noticed?
Except for times when Mom has to let out a cuff or a seam, parents seldom realize how fast their children grow.

I guess that's because it's hard to notice much change from one day to the next.

With telephone service, it's the same way. Growth and improvement go steadily on and on — almost unnoticed.

One big reason for this is that you can't always see changes and improvements in telephone service.

Today, for instance, we may begin using some new rubber compound to keep circuits better protected from rain or ice. Next month maybe it will be something to help us spot cable troubles more quickly. Next year, perhaps a new way of making your telephone voice sound more natural.

Improvements like these, made behind the scenes, come along month after month, year after year. They're just part of our efforts to make your telephone service more convenient and dependable — and as low in cost as possible.

Programs For Your Group
Watching a movie at a Rotary Club meeting the other day reminded me to tell you about free loan motion pictures we keep in our telephone film library.

Altogether I guess we have about 100 different 16 mm. films. All are sound films — many are in color. Some are short ones — just eight or ten minutes. Others run 20 or 30 minutes, even up to an hour. Any of these films would add entertainment to your club program or other group meetings.

School teachers also find telephone films useful as classroom visual aids.

Anytime you'd like to borrow a film from us, just call the telephone business office. If possible, try to give us a few weeks notice so we can make sure it's available the day you need it.

Also, if you'd like to call and give us your name and address, I'd be glad to send you a free catalogue that lists and describes the film and other program materials we have.

Just To Say Hello

Not so many years ago, placing a Long Distance call was a pretty big event. One you saved for important news — like telling the folks back home about a new baby.

It's not like that any more. Nowadays, Long Distance calls often start off with, "We just thought we'd call to say hello."

I think this modern custom — calling just to chat — keeps growing in popularity because there's something exciting about spanning the miles to hear familiar voices. And, of course, there's nothing like a telephone call when you really want to get all the news.

Calling Long Distance regularly costs a lot less than you'd think, especially when you place calls station-to-station. That way you make three calls for the price of two person-to-person calls. And you can also get extra savings by taking advantage of the special low rates every evening after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Mesquite Bean Could Bring Cattle Trouble

COLLEGE STATION, (Spl) — Mesquite beans have long been considered "life savers" by ranchmen, especially during drought periods. But a condition, which was first noted in 1941 south of Pecos, is now prevalent along the Pecos River in Texas and New Mexico and in many other parts of Texas and Oklahoma. The condition known as "jaw and tongue trouble" has been reproduced by feeding large quantities of mesquite beans.

Dr. J. W. Dollahite and W. V. Anthony, both of the Marfa laboratory of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, have found through continued studies that mesquite beans was the one food consistently eaten by all affected animals. The pastures usually contained either dry alkali saccaton or tobosa grass. Taking their cue from these facts, the research workers started feeding trials in 1955 to determine if jaw and tongue trouble could be produced by feeding mesquite beans.

It is the belief of the research workers that apparently, the rumen bacteria which digest cellulose and synthesize vitamin B are destroyed when cattle consume large amounts of mesquite beans over a considerable period of time. The resulting malnutrition and vitamin B deficiency produce the serious malady in cattle.

The saliva of affected cattle hangs from the mouth in long strings and superficially resembles meringue. The feed trough or salt box will contain several quarts of saliva. Animals chew continuously, often holding their heads to one side as if chewing was painful. In some cases, about 25 per cent, animals protrude their tongues a half inch to four inches while from 10 to 50 per cent of the animals may have swelling under the jaw and throat. These swellings may come and go. The salivary glands often are enlarged.

Animals are usually anemic and become emaciated, often losing 50 per cent of their weight. Their hair coat may be very long, but after summer shedding large denuded areas appear. Too, animals are nervous and some have muscular tremors, especially around the face and muzzle.

When symptoms of jaw and tongue trouble appear, the damage has already been done, say the scientists. Often the ranchman does not realize that he is in trouble until the mesquite beans are gone and he starts feeding hay.

The animals will gain weight on a good concentrate ration, but they cannot utilize hay. If lush green pasture is available, sick animals will apparently recover, but should be sold as soon as they are in good condition. Most, point out Dollahite and Anthony, will not be able to again digest dry roughage. It is advisable, therefore, to market cattle as soon as possible after the first symptoms appear.

Attempts at treatment have been discouraging, say the scientists. They are, however, continuing their work in an effort to find remedies. It is hoped that additional studies will suggest supplements which can be fed with mesquite beans in order that this excellent source of range feed may be utilized without affecting the health of the animals. Complete details of the investigations are given in Progress Report 1931 issued by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. It is available from the Agricultural Information Office.

THE more you look at a new Buick, the more you realize what a spectacular car it is.

It has a suave new body, ingenious new frame, 150 new features in its chassis alone. It's so low, you feel inches taller. And there's headroom, legroom, foot-room galore.

But what you can't see—what you simply have to feel for yourself—is what happens when you take this beauty to the road. Any road.

We came up with a new kind of steering, new "nested" torque-tube ride, new braking that's smoother, surer, more powerful.

We poured our engineering skills into a completely new V8 engine with the "power-pack" built right in, at no extra cost—a fire-breather, for fair.

And we capped the climax by building a new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that can't be beat for snap, sparkle, smoothness.

Granted, you've heard about dream cars, and maybe seen a few at Auto Shows. But here's the first honest-to-greatness dream car to drive!

You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car. So drop in on your Buick dealer today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

This Week --In Washington

By Clinton Davidson

The 1957 Soil Bank closed this week, with approximately 27 million acres of farm land on deposit, but anxious Washington farm officials will have to wait six months to learn whether it is a success or a failure.

A lot depends on whether, or by how much, the Bank reduces crop production this year. Congress put up $1.2 billion on a gamble that the Acreage and Conservation Reserve programs would help reduce surpluses.

The 27 million acres signed up by farmers are just over Agriculture Secretary Benson's minimum goal of 25 million, but considerably short of the maximum 45 million acres sought. It is about 7 per cent of total crop land.

If the result is a 5 per cent or more reduction in total crop production this year, the Soil Bank will have to be counted a good investment. But, because the weather plays such an important role in determining final yields, the value of the bank may continue a debatable issue.

A great deal depends on whether the Bank is judged a success or failure when the harvests are in next fall. If the result is a substantial reduction in production, and an accompanying rise in prices, the Benson farm program will have received a big boost.

If it fails to produce the desired results, then Congress will be looking for a new farm program, and Benson may be looking for another job. Farm price recovery would be set back by at least another year or two.

Monday of this week was the final day for the Conservation Reserve sign-up. Preliminary reports indicate that approximately 100,000 farmers put six million acres in, and will draw about $125 million when the Bank pays off on the land deposits for this year.

Approximately half of the total acreage is in the four-state area hardest hit by drought in recent years - Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico. Close to a no other million acres are in North and South Dakota.

In addition, the Acreage Reserve program drew a little over 21 million acres, for which farmers will receive close to $700 million. Deposits in the Acreage Reserve were limited to the so-called "basic" crops - cotton, corn, wheat, rice and tobacco.

Here is the latest breakdown of official figures for those: Wheat - 234,000 growers put 12.7 million acres into the program, and will receive payments totaling $230 million, an average of $18 an acre.

Corn - 325,000 farmers deposited 4.6 million acres and, at an average of $40 an acre, will receive payments totaling $175 million.

Cotton - 305,000 producers put three million acres in the Bank and will get $160 million, an average of $53 an acre.

Tobacco - 52,000 growers deposited 80,000 acres. The $18 million to be paid out will mean an average of $213 an acre.

Rains Total Nine Inches Last Weekend

By Mrs. Harrison Wilson

We had fine rains here the past week, amounting to 9½ inches here at our place. The four and one half that fell Saturday afternoon on top of the other that fell Thursday, almost "washed us away", but we like that better than being covered up by sand.

The rain Thursday night was general over the community, but on Saturday, Lucian Ward, five miles Northwest of us, got only .10 inch, and Ed Martin, Clarence Muennink and George Wilson, ¼ inch. To the East of us, five and six inches fell.

M&M Ben Murray and Johnnie of Crystal City, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Williams of Carrizo Springs, spent Easter Sunday with M&M John Harding. The Murrays and Mrs. Williams have spent every Easter for the past 18 years with the Hardings.

Seniors Attend Services

A high point in the schedule of activities for seniors of the Hondo High School is "Senior Day" held Thursday, April 25, at Southwest Texas Junior College at Uvalde. At that time the graduating seniors of a wide area gathered for fun and fellowship on the campus.

Entertainment included a program entitled "Around the World in 80 Minutes." A part of this program was a style show with girls from various high schools participating. Visits to different countries provided a background for girls modeling their own clothes, spectator sport, after five or date dresses, formals, and day-time dresses. Trophies were given to winning models.

Other features of entertainment included swimming, games in the play room, a supper served at the college pool and a dance that night.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF SATISFACTORY SERVICE TO POLICYHOLDERS

First Graders Have Easter Observance

Sister Mathilde and first grade mothers were very busy Wednesday, April 17, playing Easter Bunny to the first graders and youngsters who will enter school next fall. The guests were invited to attend school the entire day and hunt Easter eggs at Koenig Park.

The Home Economics class entertained the Mothers Club with a style show, modeling dresses they made in school. Highest was Patsy Keller with Mary Estelle Schott a close second. Juvenile honors went to the child's garment made by Kathleen Lutz. Each participant received a red tomato pin cushion, the children a chocolate bunny as a token of appreciation from the Mothers Club.

Dora Martinez was another member of the typing class meriting a certificate last week.

The seventh and eighth grade boys have formed a St. Dominic Savio Club. Each has his picture on the bulletin board and honor points are added as deserved. St. Dominic Savio is the twentieth century patron saint of youth.

Another club is the Citizenship Club whose membership consists of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The chief aims of members of this club are to better work together and play together, learning to obey school rules and doing their fair share in all things.

There are over 50 boys serving.

Rains Spur Activity; Insects are Abundant

By C. B. Gaston

The best rains in several years have fallen the past few days and has spurred activity in completing plans for crops.

From reports received, the full allotment for cotton will be planted in this county. A&M College Entomologists report that the mild winter has allowed many insects to survive the winter months and should be expected to start in early on cotton. The publication "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects" has been released for this year and all producers should get a copy in order to start early insect control.

A rewritten publication was received in this office last week entitled "Vegetable Gardening" and should be of great help to people growing a home garden. Those persons requesting this publication should get L-255 "Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops in Texas". These publications are among the many available for free distribution through the office of the county agent.

State Land Commissioner, Earl Rudder, reports that funds will be available by July 1, 1957 to make more loans for the purchase of land by veterans. He states that to date 22,640 requests have been received by the Veteran's Land Board.

Speakers for the sixth annual Swine Short Course to be held at Texas A&M College May 6-7 will aim at a single objective, how to make swine production in Texas more profitable. The out-of-state speakers include two nationally known authorities, Wilbur Piagers, secretary of the Iowa Pork Producers Association, Des Moines, Iowa, and Dr. B. S. Schweigert, director, Research and Education, American Meat Institute Foundation, Chicago.

Livestock producers are advised by Extension Economist A. B. Wooten to watch the calendar in connection with marketing. He says livestock prices follow definite cycles and that the alert producer can cash in on these seasonal changes. L-333, Seasonal Variations in Livestock Prices, which Wooten authored, is now available at the offices of local county agents and it traces these cycles.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

Alvin Hartman received some publicity in a sports column, "Off The Cuff," in a Houston paper last week.

According to the article, Hartman and Johnny Windrow may choose Rice Institute as their college. Letters of intent can not be signed until after the last baseball game so it is possible Hartman and Windrow will change their minds.

The article is as follows: "Rice Institute got one of the gems of schoolboy football last Saturday when Hondo's Al Hartman announced he would sign with the Owls.

The 6-4 200-pounder is made for Rice's T-formation. Coach Charlie Moore, Rice's frosh coach says Al will fit in perfectly as man-under at Rice.

"He's rangy, goes back well on passes and is tall enough to be a fine defensive player," Charlie explained.

Some Valley fans have compared Hartman to Tobin Rote, the former Owl quarterback who as a pro with Green Bay was one of the greatest.

Tobe, by the way has announced he won't play football this fall. Yet insiders say if enough cash is put on the line he may change his mind.

The Owls also got some excellent grid material last week when Max Webb of Navasota signed, as did Earl Koehn of Navasota, guard John Windrow of Hondo, and Charles Hopkins, Bapstorf halfback."

So, maybe Hartman and Windrow have found a home for their college careers.

Highway 90

Highway 90 teams are taking shape as the season is getting pretty well underway. Each team has played three games with the exception of Hondo and Uvalde, who were rained out last Saturday night.

Leading the loop is Castroville, defending champions of regular season play last year. Their record stands at three wins and no losses after last week's victory over D'Hanis 1-0. D'Hanis has a 2-1 record for the season.

Hondo and Uvalde have had it hard this year — each team has dropped two in as many starts. They will be battling for the cellar when their rained-out game comes to town.

High School Losses

Hondo High School's Owls lost to a mighty Crystal City Tuesday night 15-2.

Bob Nations, coach, didn't say what the trouble was but we imagine the weather has had something to do with it. Practice sessions do come in handy!

Hondo Bears Win

The former Hondo Bears, now playing under the sponsorship of Foote's Place, San Antonio, defeated the San Antonio Red Sox 5 to 3 on a muddy diamond last Sunday. Next Sunday, they will play Castroville here in Hondo.

Castroville Lands First Place Spot

Castroville stands the lone first team in the Highway 90 League, after taking a tough 1-0 victory from the D'Hanis Pirates last Sunday. Earl Tschirhart was credited with the win, going the entire nine innings and giving up seven hits and three bases on balls while striking out four.

The only run of the game was scored in the top of the fifth when Lynn Tschirhart walked with one man out. He went to second on a passed ball and scored on Mark Kempf's single after Earl Tschirhart had popped up for the second out.

Harlan Wolff, who pitched an outstanding game, was given credit for the loss. Wolff went the entire nine innings, giving up one run on four hits and three bases on balls. He also fanned four men.

The game was played in the amazing time of one hour and 30 minutes. Oscar Suehs picked up two for four trips to the plate for Castroville, while Hillary Huser got two for four for D'Hanis.

Nine Pirates were stranded between first and home while Castroville left only five men on base.

Rio Over LaCoste

Rio Medina's Tigers handed LaCoste its second set-back of the young season Sunday by a score of 9-8 at Rio Medina.

One hardship for LaCoste found three errors credited to their team members while Rio Medina committed no miscues. Nelson Bippert went the entire route for the Tigers, giving up eight runs on 14 hits and six bases on balls. Behind the good pitching were the bats of G. Keller and B. Mangold, who had three RBI's each. Big men for the losers were A. Keller and L. Keller, who collected four hits each.

After taking an early lead, 3-2 in the first inning, LaCoste lost control of the game in the bottom of the third when the Tigers pushed across one run to tie the score 3-3. After failing to score in the top of the fourth, LaCoste went behind one point as the Tigers again scored. Another three runs in the bottom of the fifth pushed Rio Medina ahead 7-3.

Striking back in the top of the seventh, LaCoste collected four runs, again throwing the game into a tie, 7-7. Again taking the lead in the top of the eighth by one run, LaCoste saw their hopes die in the bottom of the eighth as Rio Medina pushed across two runs and then retired to hold in the top of the ninth and take their second victory of the season, 9-8.

Rained Out

Two Highway 90 Teams, Hondo and Uvalde, were rained out. They were to play at Hondo last Saturday night.

The two teams are battling for last place, and neither team has won a game this season while dropping two.

High Taxes Injure Those Not Paying

WASHINGTON — High taxes do most injury to the persons who do not pay them, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States asserts in a new tax study made public today.

This comes about, the study says, because high taxes discourage business development, reducing job opportunities. Further, when business does not expand, the government loses potential revenue, and this, in turn, means still higher taxes for everyone.

Entitled "Expanding a Source of Tax Revenue," the study cites specific examples of established businesses that refused to expand and potential new businesses that never got started because of road blocks created by high taxes.

The Chamber points out that Henry Ford, in his early days of real risk, got his capital from individuals. But the Chamber notes that individuals today hesitate to risk their savings on such investments when returns will be heavily taxed.

"The greatest help that could possibly be given to small business and new business in this country," the study continues, "would be to reinvigorate the field of risk capital for private investment through suitable revision of tax rates."

Striking at the popular belief

Here in Hondo

Those enjoying a turkey dinner at the home of the Glenn Goodings on Easter Sunday were M&M Robert Mumme, M&M Stanley Mumme and family, M&M Alvin Wiemers and Timmy, M&M H. R. Burch and Nancy, M&M J. H. Williamson, Mrs. Morgan Ashley of San Antonio, M&M Bill Burch and Cindy of College Station, and the Hidelburg Quintet of Hondo Air Base.

Be glad in the Lord; and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart. — (Psalm 32, 11.)

Living a righteous life, being filled with God's love and good which are ours for the seeking and accepting, is not a grim, solemn, sour experience. It is the only real and lasting happiness, something of gladness and joy that is kindly, unselfish, eagerly shared with others.

that the rich can and do carry the heaviest share of the national tax burden, the study shows that high personal income tax rates actually produce meager revenue for the government.

"The number of individuals concerned is so small that little would be added to revenues if the government were to take all their income.

"If all rates above 50 per cent were eliminated, the net immediate loss to the government would be only $734 million, or slightly over 1 per cent of the federal budget (fiscal 1956). If all rates above 60 per cent were eliminated, . . . the net immediate loss to the government would be only $375 million, or slightly less than 1/2 of 1 per cent. . . ."

The study says that while the Chamber does not at this time, under current circumstances of high revenue needs, advocate reductions of the current top rate to below 50 per cent, it does believe that a 50 per cent tax is a great deterrant to the production of income.

"We also believe," the Chamber study adds, "that the present 20 per cent minimum income tax rate is much too high. . . . But even a modest reduction of the minimum rates will cause an immediate loss of revenue of considerable magnitude."

The study concludes: "It is our firm belief that the surest and quickest way of achieving appreciably lower rates in the lower brackets is to first reduce the highest rates drastically. Only in this way can sufficient additional income be generated to permit reducing the rest of the rates to reasonable levels."
